

Specialty Medication List

Updated December 2017

Your pharmacy benefit program may include coverage for certain products referred to as specialty medications. Most specialty medications are injectable (administered through a syringe), however some may be oral or transdermal.

Specialty medications may be medications you administer yourself or have a healthcare provider administer for you. The following is a list of medications considered specialty medications. As new medications that have similar indications enter the market, these products may be added to the program without notice. This list is subject to change — please call the NPS customer service team at 1 (800) 546-5677 for a current list.

In many cases, these medications require prior authorization (marked with 'PA') before dispensing or are subject to a quantity limit (marked with 'QL'). Medications marked with 'LD' are medications with a limited distribution program available from select specialty pharmacies directly to the patient, caregiver or institution, and these medications may not be available from Walgreens Specialty Pharmacy. Underlined medications are considered preferred. Benefit parameters may limit coverage of specialty medications to your plan's preferred specialty pharmacy partner.
